

Market Report

9/20/21 – 9/25/21

WEATHER -- As we approach the fall season, this is the time we have our nicest weather. Next week will be a touch warmer in the Salinas Valley.

EXTENDED OUTLOOK -- Slightly above average temps with increased humidity is expected to linger through mid-week. Though confidence is very low, as the system moves off to the northeast, it may bring rainfall to the region to start the third week of Sep. Weak high pressure moves in afterwards and returns conditions back to seasonal norms.

AVOCADO -- Alert The avocado market continues to struggle on large sized fruit out of California and Mexico; Pricing is escalated, and large sized fruit is extreme.

ARUGULA -- Overall good quality, performance. We will continue to monitor field for seeder and yellowing.

ASPARAGUS -- Alert Steady supply available on both coasts. Californian and Italian Haywards are available.

BOK CHOY -- Supplies are expected to be plentiful for the next three weeks

BROCCOLI -- Supplies are steady and the market is on an upward trend.

BRUSSEL SPROUTS -- Volume on sprouts looks to be picking in the next few weeks. Demand remains strong and quality is excellent.

CABBAGE -- Supplies are steady. Quality remains consistent with sizing and overall appearance.

CAULIFLOWER -- Supplies are expected to be plentiful this week. Overall quality and appearance should be very nice.

CELERY -- Business is better this week with good supplies. Quality is good and the market is stable in Salinas.

CILANTRO -- Supplies are expected to be plentiful for the next few weeks.

GREEN BEANS -- Fair volume on green and there is more interest for French beans as the food service sector continue to open as well as the loss of production in conventional beans. Prices are pushing higher this week and quality is excellent on French, and fair on Green. We will continue to see light numbers in the east out of the Northeast this week mostly due to rain delays and quality impacts.

GREEN ONIONS -- Supplies and quality are good this week. Market is extremely active due to supply shortage with many growers in northern Mexico because of the extremely hot weather and high humidity the past two months.

HERITAGE BLEND -- Overall good quality & color. Monitoring raw for any challenges from recent weather.

KALE -- Supplies are expected to be plentiful for the next few weeks.

LETTUCE -- Supplies are slightly lower than normal. Yields and pounds per acre are the main reason. Quality overall is good but there continues to be a lot of small issues at the field level. The crews are doing a good job of cleaning up the pack. Weights will continue to be lower than normal. The market is active due to lighter supplies and better overall demand.

LEAF / ROMAINE -- Salinas Romaine, overall good quality and color. Overall quality is nice on Green Leaf with a good green color, full heads, and good texture. Demand and pricing are steady NAPPA -- Volume should improve midweek, but we are forecasted for lighter numbers for the next two weeks.

ONIONS -- Demand and pricing are firm for larger size yellows and reds.

PARSLEY -- supplies are expected to be plentiful for the next week, with good quality.

PEPPERS -- In the west, the Central Valley production is mostly done, and we are now seeing excellent production out of the intercoastal valleys with steady volume expected through mid-September. Quality is outstanding in the newer regions.

CUCUMBERS -- Lighter this week crossing through Otay, Nogales, and McAllen. Overall quality is good in the west, but in the east, we will see weather related quality issues.

SQUASH -- Zucchini supplies are better, demand remains strong, and quality is good. Yellow squash is extremely limited, quality is fair to poor, and the market very strong. All western supplies remain limited.

POTATOES -- The potato market has reached a plateau for the time being as newer crop Norkotah growers continue to enter the market. We should begin to see some pricing relief as early as next week, however, with pricing remaining as high as it is during this time is a good indicator of how short the overall crop may be.

SWEET POTATOES -- Having gone untouched by Hurricane Ida that recently moved through Louisiana, the state's sweet potato growers are enjoying a quiet year. It will be harvested in the middle of September. And it is a little bit later this year because the planting was delayed, It was too wet to plant at the usual time. Overall acreage is like last year. The crop looks good this year.

RADISHES -- We are still sourcing from the mid-west, with very good color and quality.

SPRING MIX -- Quality concerns now are tip burn and wind burn. Monitoring raw for any challenges from recent weather.

TOMATOES -- CHERRY: Cherry tomatoes have a spilt market between the East and West. Availability is low in the East, but prices are lower. Michigan has decent production, and the quality there is very nice

GRAPE: The grape tomato market is all over the board depending on growing area and individual growers. The good news is the major rains that hit the South and Northeast did not affect commercial grape production. Other states with good grape production are Virginia/Maryland, Michigan, Alabama, North Carolina, New Jersey, and there are still decent crossings from Mexico.

ROMA: Roma market is higher this week, with prices up compared to last week. A few growing areas in Mexico are short on production due to weather. The Mexican national market is up, causing less product going to the border. If demand remains strong the price could increase.

APPLES -- As the Washington apple season gets underway, growers are contending with record high temperatures seen this summer. This will be an auspicious season, although production will be affected by the heat wave. The heat means a reduction in apple sizing and possible sunburn as well. Some growers are taking aggressive measures to reduce the amount of damaged fruit, giving the rest of the fruit on the tree more energy to grow and hoping to compensate for the slowdown in growth. Granny smith apples remain tight, especially on the smaller sizes.

BLACKBERRIES -- Hot temperatures during the backend of last week is leading to a fruit flush during the first half of the week. The additional supply will be short lived, and we expect the volumes to descend on the back half. The Pacific Northwest will conclude its season during the next 2-3 weeks. The rest of the regions will continue descending week over week.

BLUEBERRIES -- British Columbia is past its peak, and we will continue to see volumes drop off every week for the next 2 weeks. Oregon production will continue with decreasing volumes for the next 3 weeks. Washington volumes will continue for a few more weeks. The Northern District continues with light volume with high flavored fruit. Baja has seen good size with low basket counts and good flavor.

LIMES: Hurricane weather has affected the production in Veracruz with several quality and supply issues ranging from fruit being stripped trees and scaring caused by a combination of the rain and wind. The market will be higher.

ORANGE: School starting is creating a strong demand for small sizes, 113 CT and 138 CT, and supplies are limited. 88 CT and larger are a better option. Domestic navels are just about finished for the season, with some larger fruit still hanging around. Import navels are available on the east and west coasts. The import fruit vessels are really struggling to make there way to port.

GRAPES -- More than 60% of the California grape crop ships after Aug. 31, and promotions will be heavy this fall in important export markets.

KIWI FRUIT -- Steady supply available on both coasts. Californian and Italian Haywards are available.

MANGO -- Supplies of mangos coming into North America currently are steady. Quality remains high. Demand is strong for mangos.

MELONS – CANTALOUPE AND HONEYDEWS –

Except for smaller size melons, very good supplies this week on both cantaloupe and honeydews. Quality is excellent, which it is normally this time of year, with very high sugars / brix. Hopefully smaller size cantaloupes and honeydews will be more available by the end of the week.

RASPBERRIES -- Volume continue lower than previously expected this week and has been adjusted down for all of September. We are expecting to increase as we head towards the end of September, with Central Mexico volume leading the way. We anticipate the Central Mexico regions to peak in late Oct. / early Nov. Santa Maria has seen a slight increase in condition percentage due to warmer temperatures at the end of last week. The Northern District has reported some softer fruit in the Watsonville area, partially due to humid nights. Oxnard has reported good appearance with good color.

STRAWBERRIES -- Growers are reporting an improvement in fruit size and improved fruit quality, due to the cool temperatures which preceded the recent heat event. We expect favorable volumes the next couple of weeks.
